TENNIS TOMORROW

An invitation tennis tournament will take place at the courts of the Pacific Tennis Club tomorrow. Entries may be sent to R. D. Mead or made at the courts. Singles will be played in the morning commencing at 10 o'clock, while doubles will be played in the ansee Embassy. Mori has been very popular here and has made a large number of friends.

ARRING ARSON GAST

The trial of C. Ahrens, the sailor accused of setting fire to the ship Claveron, is progressing in Judge Robinson's Court. A jury was secured this morning and the prosecution put on its first witness.

Captain Thompson of the Claverdon told of the trouble he had had at various times with Ahrens and of having to put him in irons. The log showed that later Ahrens apologized for calling the captain names and was released on signing the apology in the log book.
